John Mellencamp, I'm Not Running Anymore

Holly told me, "You better give me a child" I said, "Holly, there's no way We don't even like each other all that much We couldn't make it one more day" She said, "You better look out, buster The next time you see me you're gonna pay" I said, "Holly, I'm not running anymore But I'm on my way"

I'm on my way I'm on my way I'm on my way But I'm not running anymore

Well I got two circus clowns here who like to fight They got one black eye and a bloody nose They are the hoodlums of my third wife Whatever I say they will oppose I try to teach those clowns something Like how to make it day to day I say, " Hey, you kids, I'm not running anymore But I'm on my way"

I'm on my way I'm on my way I'm on my way And I'm not running anymore

Well I look in the mirror - what the hell happened to me? Whatever I had has gone away I'm not the young kid that I used to be So I push the hair back out of my face That's O.K., I knew this would happen But I was hopin' not today Hey Baby, I'm not running anymore But I'm on my way

I'm on my way I'm on my way I'm on my way And I'm not running anymore

I'm on my way I'm on my way I'm on my way And I'm not running anymore

For sure!
