

John Miles, Don't Stop Now

Down for the first time back on your heel
Livin' on chances all the way
Fly like an angel nothing is real
Let you down easy day by day

Running for cover
Nowhere to hide
Tell me you care at all
With your head burnt up inside

Don't be a boy in a big man's world
Don't be a toy for a rich man's girl
You can work it out somehow
Don't see the end as a poor man's fool
Don't lose a friend for a broken rule
And when it's time to take your bow
Don't stop now

Lucky for someone takin' your turn
Leavin' you one more step behind
Laugh at the teacher you'll never learn
He'll never get into your mind

Runnin' for cover
Nowhere to hide
Tell me you care at all
With your head burnt up inside
Don't be a boy in a big man's world
Don't be a toy for a rich man's girl
You can work it out somehow
Don't see the end as a poor man's fool
Don't lose a friend for a broken rule
And when it's time to take your bow
Don't stop now

Don't be a boy in a big man's world
Don't be a toy for a rich man's girl
You can work it out somehow
Don't see the end as a poor man's fool
Don't lose a friend for a broken rule
And when it's time to take your bow

Don't be a boy in a big man's world
Don't be a toy for a rich man's girl
You can work it out somehow
Don't see the end as a poor man's fool
Don't lose a friend for a broken rule
And when it's time to take your bow

Don't be a boy in a big man's world
Don't be a toy
