

John Miles, I Need Your Love

I need your love, I need your love.
I need your love, I need your love.

Some times I feel lost and I don't know what you believe.
My wires get crossed, and I wonder how you could leave.
But one thing I know, I just can't go on living from day to day,
Won't you listen to me when I say,
I need your love?

I need your love,
Oh won't you believe me?
I need your love,
For every time I close my eyes to sleep, you'll still be there.

And I get so afraid when the night closes in on me,
I thought that we had it made, from now on its just a memory.
I wake up at night calling your name, no body hears but me.
I've just got to try to make you see
I need your love.

I need your love,
Oh won't you believe me?
I need your love,
Cos every time I close my eyes to sleep, you'll still be there.

I wake up at night just calling your name, no body hears but me.
I've just got to try to make you see
I need your love.
I need your love,
Oh won't you believe me?
I need your love,
Cos every time I close my eyes to sleep, you'll still be there.

And I'll be waiting for you.
I need your love,
I need your love.
I need your love,
Cos every time I close my eyes to sleep, you are still there.

And I'll be waiting for you.
I need your love,
I need your love.
I need your love,
Cos every time I close my eyes to sleep, you'll still be there.

And I'll be waiting for you.
I need your love,
I need your love.
I need your love,
Oh, you are still be there.

And I'll be waiting for you.
I need your love,
Won't you believe me
