

John Parr, Don't leave your mark on me

Under your protective wing I walked into the night
And a thousand angry demons up and took flight