

John's Children, SMASHED BLOCKED

Please! I'm losing my mind
Help me now before it's too late
Try to bring me back
Everythings spinning
My eyes are tired
I'm losing my way
Where are you, where am I?
Everything's spinning
I must have have some of you
I'm dizzy from wanting you
My eyes are getting tired

Smashed smashed smashed
You break my life in two
Blocked blocked blocked
My way of getting through

My mind is slowly spinning round
Where is the love I thought Id found?

You think I need you but you are so wrong
Because living with you is like living alone
You dont care
You never try
You just dont know that sometimes I cry

You always argue and think that you're right
And the things that you say are so full of spite
You critisize
You say I lie
You just dont know that some times I cry

Smashed smashed smashed
You break my life in two
Blocked blocked blocked
My way of getting through

My mind is slowly spinning round
Where is the love I thought Id found
