Johnny Cash, Oh, What A Dream

Oh, What A Dream

I dreamed I walked in a field of flowers Oh, what a dream The houses all were silver towers Oh, what a dream Beside the road an angel sat, I said hello and tipped my hat And stopped when I saw her smile And set me down a while I set me down a while You dreamer you

I tried the angel for a kiss Oh, what a dream But she turned away and my lips missed Oh, what a dream She said, "Sir, I'll have you know I met you just a while ago You're welcome for to sit But calm yourself a bit, sir Calm yourself a bit You dreamer you

I fell in love like one, two, three Oh, what a dream I asked the angel to marry me Oh, what a dream She said, "Sir, I can't marry you, But I'm a dream that can come true There are dreams of much my worth That live upon the earth, sir Live upon the earth You dreamer you"

Then I awoke and found my love Oh, what a dream As heavenly as the one above Oh, what a dream We'll marry in a sea of flowers, Home will be a silver tower There'll be heaven in my life With an angel for a wife With an angel for a wife You dreamer you You dreamer you
