SUGAR COATED BABY

WRITERS JOHNNY HORTON, HOWARD HAUSEY

When the last sole flicker of the sun goes down
And they turn the lights on all over town
That's when you see me walkin' Broad and Main
I'm gonna see my sugar coated baby
I'm just like a kitten, playin' with a string
When I'm a-holdin' that pretty little thing
She's as sweet as honey all the way around
And she's sugar coated all the way down
Well I'm drownin' myself in her eyes of blue
'Cause each and every kiss is just like brand new
I bet when you find me I'll be nestled in her arms
Havin' myself a-lost a week in her charms
Well her love I get for nothing, it don't come on the cuff
It comes from her heart and I never get enough
She kisses me it's like a drink of wine
It warms me all over just to know that she's mine
