

Johnny Orlando, someone will love you better

The greatest romance
Lighting strike to my heart
We would slow dance
In my headlights in the parking lot
There was no chance of ever falling apart
But you've noticed that I'm here but I'm so far

Cause I've been running from the sun
And I got nowhere left to hide

Every night I close my eyes
And wish I was still in love
Trying to fight the war with my mind
It's gonna kill me to give you up
Darling this is gonna hurt
No I won't regret it
Cause I loved you first
But someone will love you better

Last time I'll hold you
Just cause you need it
Hard to console you when I can't give you reasons
Hate that love can be a thing you lose
There's nothing you or I could do
We were fools to fall and it's nobody's fault no

Cause I've been running from the sun
And I got nowhere left to hide (hide)

Every night I close my eyes
And wish I was still in love
Trying to fight the war with my mind
It's gonna kill me to give you up
Darling this is gonna hurt
No I won't regret it
Cause I loved you first
But someone will love you better

Ooooooh oooooooh
Cause I loved you first
But someone will love you better
Ooooooh oooooooh
Cause I loved you first
But someone will love you better

Darling this is gonna hurt
I won't regret it
Cause I loved you first
But someone will love you better
