

Jon Anderson, Where Were You

Where were you upon that night
Just as the moon was breaking
They had seen asleep their sheep
On a hill, all of heaven was singing

Glory days upon the earth
Sent his son from heaven
When at last the sound is heard
All around us, we're forgiven

There we'll stand at his right hand
Singing for the savior
All will know from this day forth
That the light will always save ya

Goodness knows no boundaries
Goodness knows your freedoms
After all, the gentle soul
Can he lead us to his kingdom
His kingdom come

There we'll stand at his right hand
Singing for the savior
All will know from this day forth
That the light will always save ya

There we'll stand at his right hand
Singing for the savior
All will know from this day forth
That the light will always save ya
