Jon Bon Jovi, Love Me Back To Life

This world dont give you nothing It cant take away Everybody holding on to something Nobody wants to fade away No forgiveness on the streets of this town I left my patience at a traffic light Theres no denying that I almost lost it Threw in the towel Too tired to fight Tonight I need you More than yesterday Tonight I need you Take me, touch me Hold me like you mean it Make me come alive Hurt me, heal me Come and make me feel it Rescue me tonght Love me back to life These days Id trade sight for feeling There are days my feelings gone Cant figure out whose life Im living I dont know right from wrong When I lost faith You found it and gave it back to me Theres a new light on your halo It took blind eyes to see That I need you More than yesterday Yeah, I need you Take me, touch me Hold me like you mean it Make me come alive Hurt me, heal me Come and make me feel it Rescue me tonight Love me back to life take me touch me hold me like you mean it make me come alive Come on hurt me heal me come on make me feel it rescue me tonight love me back to life come on love me back to life come on love me back to life
