

Jonas Blue, LÉON, Hear Me Say

All the late night conversations
Way too many hesitations
Feel the doubt, i feel the doubt
And the memories i've been saving
But the good ones they're all fading
Fading out, they're fading out

I hear you calling out my name
Oh we can't go back
And that's a shame

Wish i would tell you
There's no one to blame
Wish i would tell you
I still feel the same
I want you to know now that it was never in vain and that's the last thing you'll hear you'll hear*
