

Jonas Brothers, Black Keys

She walks away
The colors to fade to gray
Every precious moment's now erased
She hits the gas
Hoping it would pass
But the red light starts to flash
It's time to wait
And the black keys
Never looked so beautiful
And a perfect rainbow never seemed so dull
And the lights out
Never had this bright of glow
And the black keys showing me a world I never knew, no
A world I never knew
She loves the sun
Cause it proves she's not alone
And the world does it revolve around your soul
She loves the sky cause it validates her pride
Never let's her know when is wrong
And the black keys
Never looked so beautiful
And a perfect rainbow never seemed so dull
And the lights out
Never had this bright of glow
And the black keys showing me a world I never knew
Yeah
The walls are closing in
Don't let em get
Inside of your head
Don't let em get
Inside of your head
Don't let em get
Inside of your head
Don't let them inside
Cause the black keys never looked so beautiful
And a perfect rainbow never seemed so dull
Ooh
And the lights out never had this bright of glow
And the black keys showing me a world I never knew
Don't let em get
Don't let em get
Inside of your head
No
Don't let em get yeah
Inside of your head
Don't let em get
Don't let em get
Inside of your head
Don't let em get
Ooh
Inside of your head
Sometimes a fight is better black and white