

Jonny Lang, Love Disappears

I was gathering all the things I had to tell you and found that there were more things I had to hide Like lovers in tears doubt and fears inside me

Cause when you're away there's nothing to say at all cause when you're not here love disappears.

I was dreaming of the last time we lied together
It seems whenever I need you you're across the sea Pressured by fear's sometimes it appears you don't want me

Cause when you're away I've nothing to say at all
cause when you're not here love disappears

Cause frame after frame the dream ends the same without you cause when you're away I've not much to say at all cause when you're not here love disappears.
