

Jordan Hill, You Got No Right

I'm here to tell you, you've gone too far
So tell me baby who you think you are
I stood here waitin', only to be stood up by you, by you

Don't try my patience, don't lie again
Don't think that I don't know just where you been Say you been workin' but all I smell on you is perfume

Don't waste your time
With your lines
They don't work on me no more

You got no right
To let me down this way
You got no right
To break my heart again
You got no reason to be leavin'
I ain't gonna ask you to stay
You got no right to treat me this way

You had your chance to keep me by your side
You tried to love me on the slip and slide
Sooner or later your lies are gonna catch up with you, with you

Don't waste your time
Tryin' to find
One more way to change my mind

You got no right
To let me down this way
You got no right
To break my heart again
You got no reason to be leavin'
I ain't gonna ask you to stay
You got no right to treat me this way

Don't waste your time
With your lines
They don't work on me no more
