

Josh Gracin, I Don't Want To Live

I know you said when I left,
I'd regret every word, every breath,
Every step, every minute without you.
Go do what you have to.

I know I said you were wrong, I'd move on
It was only a matter of time 'til I'd make it without you.
But this wasn't about you.

I said I needed space,
A change of place,
To go out and live my life.
But,

(Chorus)
I don't wanna live without you anymore,
And what I wouldn't give to get us back to the way it was before.
I admit I was wrong all along,
Now you're gone with all that I'd been living for.
I don't wanna live without you anymore.

For a couple of nights I was fine,
I was high on the wine and the lights
And my new found freedom
That I thought i needed

But that cold lonely room that I headed home to,
It felt like a tomb.
I just stared at the ceiling,
What an empty feeling.

And, baby, I apologize,
And tell me its not too late.

(Chorus)

Baby,
(Chorus)

I don't wanna live without you anymore.
