

Josh Kelley, Will I Be The One

Oh, I can't see the reasons behind all the things people do
Such a hasty position that they ought to put themselves through
Oh, it crowds the mind with a feeling you can't recall
So let's put it back together, a piece at a time, well that's all

And I don't care at all
You can do what you want but I won't be there
To catch you when you fall

Chorus:
Will I be the one?
Who jumps through the ring of fire
To save you from this place?
Will it be the world who brings me to make these jumps
If that's the case

Well it must be the seasons
Cause I can't stop feeling so blue
Well, give me the reasons
For all this emotional so true

Sometimes the world will not give me a reason at all
So I put my hands in, give me a reason to fall
And I, I don't care at all
You can give me a reason
Tell me what you want
But I won't catch you when you fall

Chorus:
Will I be the one?
Who jumps through the ring of fire
To save you from this place?
Will it be the world who brings me to make these jumps
If that's the case

And I don't care at all
Do what you want
But I won't catch you when you fall

Will I be the one?
Who jumps through the ring of fire
To save you from this place?
Will it be the world who brings me to make these jumps
If that's the world in case
