

Josh Rouse, A Song To Help You Sleep

Cat doesn't care about a thing
Crickets were up, worrying
And the locusts in the season, they believe
There's people out there, listening

They will tuck you in tonight
Here's a song to help you sleep
It's the sweetest lullaby
Hear all the bed bugs sing
Sing do do do...

There's a box of a family
Lives across the street
I want to come over
And sing some harmony

And the beetle's playing banjo
With the flea
Praying mantises down there
It's hard it seems

He will tuck you in tonight
Here's a song to help you sleep
It's the sweetest lullaby
Hear all the bed bugs sing
They will tuck you in tonight
Here's a song to help you sleep
It's the sweetest lullaby
Hear all the bed bugs sing
Sing do do do...

And the winter's coming soon
They'll have to leave
So you folks out there, listening

They will tuck you in tonight
Here's a song to help you sleep
It's the sweetest lullaby
Hear all the bed bugs sing
They will tuck you in tonight
Here's a song to help you sleep
It's the sweetest lullaby
Hear all the bed bugs sing
Sing do do do...
