

Josh Rouse, Marvin Gaye

Is it in your hair
Or your camera starin'
Is it physical
There's no way to know

Could I be that strong
Open up your heart
Let the sun shine in
Well who really cares
And who really cares

And all the promises that you wore
They've all been swept under the door
And all the people inside your dreams
They've become reality

And you are a star
And you are a star
Yeah you

Is it natural
With your head down low
Could you bear the cost
That you can't afford

Could I be that strong
Open up those scars
Let the world fall in
Oh and you really did
Did you come back kid

And all the promises that you wore
They've all been swept under the door
And all the people inside your dreams
They've become reality

And you are a star
And you are a star
And you are a star
And you are a star
Yeah you
