

Josh Rouse, Summer Kitchen Ballad

Sat in the kitchen with an asthma cigarette, out the window with an inch of regret it's a grey world
Sold all the gear that he had in the shed, gave him a hard time so he up and quit, it's a gray world.
And the old van is tired and slow. it wouldn't go
Down at the quarry to have a swim, I took off my shirt but you won't go in it's a grey world.
Later at the fire with a marshmallow stick, you were embarrassed because she was so thin it's a gray world.
And the old van is tired and slow it wouldn't go
