

Josh Rouse, The Man Who...

He used to work in Central Park where at least a dozen women broke his heart and there he'd sit and think about his past she lived in Brooklyn and she rode the trains first she'd take the G then the L and that is where they met upon that day she wants to help him now

Cuz he's the man who doesn't know how he's the man who doesn't know how he's the man who doesn't know how to smile

It's not that simple just to change a man even if you think that you have skill with disadvantaged hearts so used some caution when you see him pass he won't hurt you but his face is sad and everyday he's breathin through the gills she's gonna help him now

Cuz he's the man who doesn't know how
he's the man who doesn't know how
he's the man who doesn't know how to smile
he's not happy by himself

The summer turned into fall and they took a little trip to the cape and that is where they laid they're bodies down and in the morning when the the sun came up she looked at him just to say that she would never go astray it's gonna work out now

Cuz he's the man who doesn't know how
he's the man who doesn't know how
he's the man who doesn't know how to smile
he's not happy by himself