

Joshua Radin, The One You Knew

I'm leaving but don't worry I'll be back again, you're always right here and you're grieving but don't hurry to your pack of friends, I'll stay it's clear,

The one you knew from your love
I grew into complete and whole and the way I justify,
it's my way to control love everlasting

I see your sweater, rests upon your bed reminds me of home, it can't be any better than it is in my head I'm blinded by roam(?)

The one you knew from your love
I grew into complete and whole
and the way I justify it's my way to control there's only one way I know how to do this stay here and help me live through this and I'll always be

the one you knew from your love
and the way I justify
it's my way to control love everlasting
