

Joss Stone, The Answer

How you gonna move with the belt?
How you gonna run down the street?
How you gonna get tired, get 'round the beat?
How you gonna pay the rent?
How you know what you spent?
How you gonna catch the answer to all these questions?

Let go
Let go
You need to let go
You gotta let go

Find your strength
Fight for peace
There's a light
In your release
Let love win
Just give in
The next is bright
So you can see...
The answer

How you gonna make her your lady?
Is she paying you no high?
How you gonna keep her happy all the time?
How you gonna save your heart
From the world outside?
How you gonna get to the next one
If it don't work out right?

You gotta let go
You know you gotta let go
You need to let go
You gotta let go

Find your strength
Fight for peace
There's a light
In your release
Let love win
Just give in
The next is bright
So you can see...

Find your strength
Fight for peace
There's a light
In your release
Let love win
Just give in
The next is bright
(The next is brighter)
So you can see

Can you see, can you see
Can you see, can you see
The truth now

So much time will pass, the world will laugh
As we try to understand our fail on man
So many lines are crossed and lives are lost
While we walk around with our heads down
A thousand hearts will ache, a million souls will shake
It once made, and yeah one child

If we could just connect the heart with the head
We'd be just fine, no judgment call of any kind

Find your strength
Fight for peace
There's no war (no war)
In our streets
(In the eyes of our street)
Let love win
Just give in
The next is bright
(The next, the next, the next is brighter)
So you can see...

Find you strength
(Won't you find your strength?)
Fight for peace
There's a light
In your release
(Shining in your street)
Let love win
Just give in
(Just come on and give in)
The next is bright
(The next is brighter)

Can you see, can you see
Can you see the truth now?
Can you see it now?
Shining in front of your face
Can you see, can you see
Can you see the truth

Find your strength
Fight for peace
There's a light
In your release
Won't you let love win
Just give in
The next is bright

Find your strength
Fight for peace
There's a light
In your release
Won't you let love win
Just give in
The next is bright
