Joy Electric, From Mount Chorus

How your end fate tells a story Like the ones we have lived out so poorly In a light of an unclear existense I've been swept to the side and been dismissed Fainting and friendless

From Mount Chorus A song to reach the ends of the earth From Mount Chorus Still singing, still singing

Plagued by severe complications
Of which there are now new vaccinations
Pierced by the sword of the devil
But a mirror shows the face of one you know
Who are your friends now?
