Joy Electric, Weep In The Sunshine

And why, oh why, do I cry for you? Alone for so long, asleep in my dreams

If you can hear me now Why do I weep in the sunshine? If you can hold me now Why do I weep in the sunshine?

And now, together, we lie forever It seems so long, to do no harm

If you can hear me now Why do I weep in the sunshine? If you can hold me now Why do I weep in the sunshine?

Without you, I don't need much I needed you in spite of Without you, a needed touch A place we go in times of trouble
