Jucifer, Sea Blind

she don't want anything worth having she takes her liquid in champagne magnums she don't want anything worth having believes in diet pills and fashion she don't want anything worth having she takes her lovers with flawless passion she don't want anything worth having sleeps with her vials in a vaccum she collects sculptures just to have them she lives with tapestries and platinum she runs an airplane glue and saccharine she's always been the main attraction