Judas Priest, Hell & amp; Back

I have roamed so far away I have found there's no turning back I have seen so many things I have been to hell and back

Still in the land of the living Rocking the home of the brave Staying alive and still kicking Ain't got no need to be saved

Out of the fire and into the black We've been through it all We've been to hell and back

When I was young life was savage The leather gets scruffed as it's worn Rolling alone you get damaged So you grab the bull by the horns

Out of the fire and into the black We've been through it all We've been through hell and back Take it up higher when you're under attack

We've been through it all We've been through hell and back

We have roamed so far away
We have found there's no turning back
We have seen so many things
We have been to hell and back

Out of the fire and into the black We've been through it all We've been through hell and back Taking it up higher when you're under attack

We've been through it all We've been to hell and back

We've all been under attack We've all been to hell and back
