

Judas Priest, New beginnings

Hope in my heart
As a new day has dawned
I see your light on the wings of a dove
Lifting me up as the dark clouds retreat
Courage transcends and you make me complete
Hope in my heart with the advent of spring
I am reborn with the love that you bring
Now at last my dream is real
I found peace
True love can heal
On the journey throughout time
A new beginning has arrived
At the crossroads of my life
This new love keeps me alive
I never knew that you were waiting for me
Hope was out of sight
And suddenly I see the future clearly
No longer living in the past
As I let go
Living the dream
Of my life
I was alone no-one in sight
This love - make me believe that you're the one
Never give up - our day has come
I never felt that this could happen to me
So many lonely days and nights
I never knew that you were waiting for me
Hope was out of sight
And suddenly I see the future clearly
Finally I know at last
I can let go
Living the dream
Of my life
I was alone - no-one in sight
This love - I'll never throw it all away
Now that you're in my life to stay
