

Jude Harrison, Unraveling

Ive been walking through the ruins
Of my life and times
Seems like everything is sinking right
In front of my eyes
Ive been asking all the questions
But nothing coming back
Now Im trying to keep myself
From slipping through the cracks
Where is my faith?
How did I get this for?
Who do I blame?
When it all falls apart?
Maybe the moons just a hole in the sky
One day at time my world is shattering
Maybe the answers to never ask why
As I watch my life unraveling, unraveling (unraveling)
I dont know who I turn to
And I wonder whos a friend
I dont ever wanna trusted and led to the and
Im running out of the reasons
To put up a fight
Trying to drag another lasso back into the ride
How could I heal?
So many broken hearts
And whos there for me?
When it all falls apart
Maybe the moons just a hole in the sky
One day at time my world is shattering
Maybe the answers to never ask why
As I watch my life unraveling, unraveling (unraveling)
We were so strong when we started
Something went wrong
And all things that mattered
Somehow got away
Away
Maybe the moons just a hole in the sky
One day at time my world is shattering
Maybe the answers to never ask why
As I watch my life unraveling
As I watch my life unraveling, unraveling (unraveling)
Gonna watch in unwind
One day at a time (x 4)
