

Jude York, I Won't Need to Dream

When I lay my head to sleep
There's somewhere I'd rather be
Paint me wings to take me there
Floating on the midnight air
One day I won't need to dream

Soaring through the make-belief
Chasing something out of reach
But maybe if I wish it so
Life could be the way I hope
One day I won't need to dream

Ooh (When I lay my head to sleep)
Ooh (There's somewhere I'd rather be)
When the stars align
I sing from the other side
'Cause I know it won't be just another fantasy
When the stars align
I sing from the other side
'Cause I know it won't be just another fantasy
When the stars align
I sing from the other side
'Cause I know it won't be just another fantasy
(When the stars align)
(I sing from the other side)
( 'Cause I know it won't be just another fantasy)

Where the past and future meet
I'll wake up where I'm meant to me
And someday I won't need to dream
