Jughead's Revenge, The Real World

Took a song
Wrote it down
Tell you feel
About my life
Turned my world upside down
Can't seem to make it right
It's hard to tell
When the blame just turns
When you're living
In the real world
Inside this locked up mind
You will never know my pain
Take a look into my eyes
Can you see it?
Who's to blame when the mind just goes
From unbelieving
Took a song
Wrote it down
Tell how I feel about the world
The way we treat it
We deserve it
A sewer now
That was yet unfurled
It's hard to tell when the blame just turns
When you're living in the real world
And when you see that they're losers
You can feel the same
Take a look inside these schools
Can you see it?
It's only what they want you to know
Can you believe it?
So take a song
Write it down
Tell me how you feel
About your life
You're the one who knows what you need
You're the one who knows what's right
Take a look into these eyes
Can you see it?
Through the cloud
Of the hate and the lies
I know you can see it
C'Mon feel it
