Juice, Best Days

Am I happy - maybe not But I never wanna lose what I got I wouldn't trade it for anything dear to my heart, oh no

You take the good times with the bad How else would you know happy from sad Sooner or later You're gonna have to finally look back

And you'll look back and see What happened in between And you'll appreciate Each and every single day

*The pop of the cork And the cling of the glasses We toast to the future And we drink to the past It might not be easy But nevertheless These are the best days (of our lives)

Sometimes the weather can be rain But one day it will be sunny again Without the clouds of life It's just another sunny day

Repeat*

These are the times That I will never forget These are the best days (of our lives)

Repeat*

It might not be easy But nevertheless These are the best days (of our lives.)
