

Julia Michaels, What A Time (ft. Niall Horan)

i feel a little nauseous and my hands are shaking I guess I need you close by my throat is getting dry and my heart is racing I haven't been by your side in a minute, but I think about it sometimes even though I know it's not so distant no I still wanna reminisce it

I think of the night in the park
it was getting dark
and we stayed up for hours
what a time /3x
you clinged my body like you wanted it forever
what a time /3x
for you and I
what a time /2x
for you and I

I know we didn't end it like we're supposed to and now we get a bit tense I wonder if my mind just leaves out all the bad parts I know we didn't make sense I admit it that I think about it sometimes even though I know it's not so distant
no I still wanna reminisce it

it was getting dark
what a time /3x
you clinged my body like you wanted it forever
what a time /3x
for you and I
what a time /2x
for you and I

for you and I /3x
what a time /2x
for you and I
what a time /2x
for you and I
what a time /2x
for you and I

I think of the night in the park
it was getting dark
what a time /3x
you clinged my body like you wanted it forever
what a time /3x
for you and I
what a time /2x
for you and I
