

Julia Volkova, Rage

I feel it in my bones
You've never see me lose
Losing my control like this before
I've taken all I can
You never understand
I won't let you steal my life anymore

I'm taking it back
It's about time
Sooner or later
In your eyes
How could I believe
All the secrets and lies?
Yeah!

So go, walk away
The only thing you ever gave me was a broken heart
Get out of my way
I know I deserve much better from this life
And if I stay I might do something I know I'll regret
Take back everything I've said
In rage

I gave my respect
I gave you honesty
Why do you have to take that one way street?
And after all it's done
And after all it's said
I'm always gonna be one step ahead

I'm moving on
To get what I need
Somebody who can give what they receive
Relinquish my dreams
And all the memories
Yeah!

So go, walk away
The only thing you ever gave me was a broken heart
Get out of my way
I know I deserve much better from this life
And if I stay I might do something I know I'll regret
Take back everything I've said
In rage

All the memories
All the good times
Mean nothing to me now
By the time you realize you are wrong
I'll be gone!!
