

Julie Reeves, If I'd Never Loved You

(Aimee Mayo/Bob Regan)

When he says he'll call me he always does
Brings me flowers just because
He's kind and honest says he's crazy 'bout me
I tell myself this could be a dream come true
If I'd never loved you

If I'd never loved you I'd have nothing to compare this to
I wouldn't know what it's like when it's right and real
Or how deep I could feel
Maybe I could love somebody new
If I'd never loved you

I want that same emotion that we once had
How can I settle after that
He would be good for me would that be enough
I do feel something I could call it love
And that's what I'd do
If I'd never loved you

You made me so happy, so crazy, so alive
You could take me much higher than I'd ever been
I wouldn't keep trying to find that feeling again
If I'd never loved you

I wouldn't know what it's like when it's right and real
Or how deep I could feel
Maybe I could love somebody new
If I'd never loved you
