Julie Roberts, That Ain't A Crime

I could go on out tonight and do anything I want I can find someone to hold me But I've got my reasons, but reasons I don't

I know you're gone, I just can't move on Cause your memory is chained to my mind That ain't a crime

I know I should forget you That you're no good for me But that doesn't mean I don't want you And my broken heart and my broken dreams

I know you're gone, I just can't move on Cause your memory is chained to my mind That ain't a crime

I've tried and I've tried I've cried and I've cried over you Over you

[Instrumental Interlude]

I know you're gone, I just can't move on Cause your memory is chained to my mind It's there all the time And that ain't a crime
