

Julie's Haircut, The Power Of Psychic Revenge

Spiders and grannies on an empty day then you walk away to yourself listen to daddy he's on the way he can ease the pain then it's gone you try to remember your friends' name but it's hard to tell who's to blame something is happening inside in your head are you going insane? or feeling well? then your hate comes pouring in every way houses and buildings in flames (your pretty face it's something strange it's nothing good) targets of your own rage (your loving grace it's something strange)
they can't escape!
rescueing the power of your mind you see through other people's eyes sharing your knowledge will make you strong or they'll put you down to the ground
then your hate comes pouring in every way
houses and buildings in flames (your pretty face it's something strange it's nothing good)
targets of your own rage (your loving grace it's something strange)
they can't escape!
