Julien Creance & Alexander Perls, Heatwave

This is what it sounded like to me: Chorus (x 2): I'm coming to you on a heatwave No matter how long your love takes I'm coming to you on a steam train speeding out of the night again (night again) x [instrumental break] Is there something sacred that you believe in? {Is there a castle to the sand?} - unclear I'm approaching with an open heart I'm coming to you right from the start And now are you gonna let me in? Chorus
