

Juliets Wishing Well, Grapefruit Song

do you remember lying on a grapefruit in the solemn of the evening sun when i saved you from the cat in the deep blue forest where the wild things grow from the blue shag rug
danced with the alien all night long when the hunt was over and the goodies were gone they took a walk down to the watering hole isn't captivating the things that you think of when mother nature blesses you with a token of her love
