

Juliette And The Licks, By The Heat Of Your Light

I'd come around like a little cat
Brush past your leg imagine that
Dont leave my dish outside
I want to eat by the heat of your light

I woke up just a little too late
You softly walked away, shut the gate
Dont leave my love in the dark
I still feel the beat, by the heat of your light

The letters, I sent went unreturned
Like plucking the wings of a baby bird
I wonder where it all began and if it will ever appear again
Come rock me to sleep by the heat of your light.
