

Juliette & The Licks, Mind full of daggers

I get the feeling I'm down on my knees waiting to serve you
I can't take much more of this policeman state
And when I'm up you try to put me down back in the cage babe
You're never too soon but you're always too late
Everything you are is everything you want
Everything you want is everything you need
Oh hey Joe I'm so sorry for you now cause you'll never live me down
I'm the girl in the Licks Juliette Juliette say my name bitch
You got that gentlemen's swagger and mind full of daggers, leave me alone
That 13 inch boot don't make you a man
Everything you are is everything you want
Everything you want is everything you need
And everything you need is everything you try and take from me
Everything don't mean a thing
I don't care what you say
You can go your own way baby
I don't care what you say
You can go your own way
So you found another weak on to put under your thumb
You found another weak on to bang like a drum
Every time I'm up you try to put me down back in the cage babe
And when I'm up you try to put me down down down
Everything you are is everything you want
Everything you want is everything you need
And everything you need is everything you try and take from me
Everything don't mean a thing
I'm sick and tired of your duplicity
And everything you change in me, change in me
Everything, everything, everything you want you want
