

Jump Little Children, Secrets

don't say that you said everything i said not to say I know you don't remember that I know you won't remember this but from now on I only tell lies

I know your word is no good as long as its understood so far as you realize
I only tell lies

CHORUS: I don't tell my secrets anymore
There should be no surprise
That I don't tell my secrets anymore
I only tell lies

If only you knew all the damage that you can do now you'll need a photograph a signature and witnesses
'cause from now on I only tell lies you'll need someone to confess and educated guess or see it with your own eyes

I only tell lies

I used to say not just what came to mind casually but all those things that no one else could ever know of me

CHORUS

I'll tell you every intimate moment without sparing a detail but this I truly must confide

I don't tell my secrets anymore
I only tell lies

(solo)

someday it'll come back to you all those things that you think are true are all wearing a clever disguise
I only tell lies

I used to say not just what came to mind casually but all those things that no one else would ever know of me

CHORUS

no, I don't tell my secrets anymore you'll see it in my eyes
that I don't tell my secrets anymore
I only tell lies
