

Junior Boys, No Kinda Man

Take me home,
Take me today,
No we die,
There's no need to say,

In my hand,
In my skin,
I'm alone,
I'm miles away.

I've got sun,
I've got rain,
I'm left behind,
And I lost my name.

I'm aware,
That I don't fit right.
I get lost,
and you feel the same.

Never older,
Always the same.
Like the man,
Who dies everyday.

I'm no kinda man,
When I'm here with you.
No kinda man,
When I'll leave you.

I need you,
Every afternoon.
Restless views,
From a rented room.

Let's go out you say,
'Cause I don't care.
Let them talk you say,
Let them crowd and stare.

It's no use,
I knew it all along,
You'd follow me,
And you'd be wrong.

'Cause I'll hide away,
And I'll never stand,
Here with you,
No kinda man.

Never older,
Always the same.
You'll keep on moving,
And you'll change your name.

I'm no kinda man,
When I'm here with you.
No kinda man,
When I'll leave you.
