

Juniper Lane, Impact

Don't let the sun
Get in your eyes
You get one shot
So make it good

Bring up your arm
To block the light
The impact can be beautiful

You can't own
Your innocence
It's what you lose
When we collide

We push back
Until we all
Are someone else's Consequence

Make it count and time it right
We all live this common life
And you are what I have been waiting for

Your aim is true
The surface breaks
Your impact brings
The pool to life

You blur the lines
Of my mistakes
Your impact
it's just beautiful

This is what I've waited for
You are what I've been hoping for
