

Just Jinger, Little Girl

My little girl
Well she taught the sun
And it only shines for her
She taught the sea
More than it could be
As it slowly washed away
And she saved my mind
Left me with some time
To think about some day

I never really thought I'd miss a girl
Quite like this before today
I never felt this way before

My little girl
Well she taught the stars
And they only shine for her
She taught the trees
All about her leaves
As they slowly float away
And she made me cry
When we said goodbye
But she'll always be the one

I never really thought I'd miss a girl
Quite like this before today
I never felt this way before

You know, she means the world to me
Obviously,
So come what may, I feel more each day

I never really thought I'd miss a girl
Quite like this before today
I never really felt this way,
I never felt this way,
Before today
I never really thought I'd miss a girl
I never felt this way before
