K-OS, Patience

[Intro] Swing high then swing low I know we all know Swing high then swing low I know we all know

[K-OS] I was rushing to the end But you're everything I saw, again And hoping to pretend I was knocking on heavens door my friends But I was just a fool, caught up in the game Everything is cool, believing in my name instead of his And then the sun came out I couldn't find the shade, I'm not afraid Of the light anymore

[Chorus] Patience Heavens on the side be patient The universe is mines Patience Everything is grand use patience And you can understand

[K-OS] Now everyone knows We hold the key deep in our souls But we are living a life on the surface yo What's the purpose of living lies Somebody tell me Some hearts are made of stone (of stone) They'll find their way back home (home) I know I walk the path of life eternally To be free, its all time

[Chorus] Patience Heavens on the side be patient (heavens on your side) The universe is mines (and you don't travel anywise) Patience Everything is grand use patience (use patience) And you can understand (you can understand)

[Outro] Swing high then swing low I know we all know Swing high then swing low I know we all know
