

K's Choice, Already There

Go on my love
I know you must go
But if there were a way
I would keep you home

You fight for the tears
In the eyes of our child
As she stares at the hands of her brother who died

For the future, our land
Or the freedom to dance
Wherever the music might lead us, my friend

You died all alone
And I no longer pray
'Cause if there were a God
He'd have let you stay

So tomorrow I'll burn
Our house to the ground
We'll join you up there
We no longer care

For the future, our land
Or the freedom to dance
Wherever you are, we're already there
