

Kainos, Like Gravity

Tell me where is this God
Tell me why does He hide
Cause it's hard to believe
In something I can't see

I wish I could make it easier
But you can only change if you want
Seek and you will find

That He is always there
When you feel down
And he knows the numbers of hairs on your head
Like grains of sand on the ground
And He is always there
Like gravity He is there

Yeah I need more than just words
More than a story rehearsed
I've heard all this before
Now there's gotta be something more

I wish I could make it easier
But you can only change if you want
(But what do I have to do?)
So seek and you will find

That He is always there
When you feel down
And he knows the numbers of hairs on your head
Like grains of sand on the ground
And He is always there
Like gravity He is there

Do you know God
Then how come I don't feel it
Do you know God
You know I want to see it
Do you know God
I know I really need it
Do you know God

He is always there
When you feel down
And he knows the numbers of hairs on your head
Like grains of sand on the ground
And He is always there
Like gravity He is there
He is there
Always there
