

Kalan Porter, Destination (Where I Belong)

Could this be the road?
Is this everything that I've been searching for?
'Cause every voice in my head keeps tellin' me
That I might be close
You're just a step away
Am I wasting far too many days?
Facing love up there twenty floors above
With the ground so close
Here I stand at this destination
Now I see you with my eyes wide open
I don't want to let you go
'Cause everything I know tells me
You're where I belong
Seemed like I was sure
Someday I'd be growing up to save the world
At this place now I'm only savin' face
But I came so close
Here I stand at this destination
Now I see you with my eyes wide open
I don't want to let you go
'Cause everything I know tells me
You're where I belong
I was stupid
Never knew you were right here all along
Here I stand at this destination
Now I see you with my eyes wide open
I don't want to let you go
'Cause everything I know tells me
You're where I belong
