Kaleidoscope, Just How Much You Are

I remain your servant, yours truly With, or turn away and I am so dumb That I will always have the time to say

Just how much you are Just how much you are Just how much you are

Yes, I am your nothing but you are Always my night and my day, even though I'm falling, I believe I have the right to say

Just how much you are Just how much you are Just how much you are

I remain your servant, yours truly With, or turn away and I am so dumb Yes, I am your nothing but you are Always my night and my day, even though I'm falling, I believe I have the right to say

Just how much you are Just how much you are Just how much you are
