

Kamera, Something's In The Air

It's different feeling in the air,
A smell of winter everywhere
There is no one out in town tonight,
The streets are empty, just rain and lights

Standing by your door

Time to go home now
I know, I know
But something's in the air
This might be nothing
So tell me are you young enough to care?

It's a common feeling i suppose
Don't know what to say, or what to do
Your lips had the taste of cigarettes,
And there is one thing i won't regret:

I fell in love with you

Time to go home now
I know, I know
But something's in the air
This might be nothing
So tell me are you young enough to care?

Out tonight,
Yeah I'm going out tonight
Yeah I'm going out tonight
Yeah I'm going out tonight
Yeah I'm going out tonight
Out tonight
Yeah I'm going out tonight
Oh I'm going out tonight
Yeah I'm going out tonight

Time to go home now
I know, I know
But something's in the air
This might be nothing
So tell me are you young enough to care?

I know, I know
But something's in the air

So tell me are you young enough to care?
